Mangalore: The Nature club and Science association of University College Mangaluru unitedly participated in the 'Annual Cashew fest' at Agricultural Research Station in Ullal, Mangalore , on 25th February 2022. The cashew fair was held to acknowledge the significance of scientific development in cashew farming and importance of its trade.

We started from the college at 9.30 in bus escorted by Dr. Siddaraju sir, coordinator of Nature club and Dr. Sanjay Annarao sir , coordinator of Science association. Later we walked the distance to the research center from Ullal bus stop. The Cashew Research center was a pleasant place and well facilitated. We were served refreshments in the morning as soon as we went. After that we attended the stage program. The program was enlightening and informative . The presence of Padmasree recipient Amal Mahalinga Naik apprised the gathering.

There were exhibition stalls selling hybrid plants and displaying the various varieties of cashews grown in that region. Lunch was served after the program to everyone.

In the afternoon, we took a stroll around the campus to see various saplings of plants. Dr. Siddaraju sir explained us about the need for different methods of cultivating . We enjoyed doing various activities like climbing trees in the vast cashew fields. Later we took bus to Someswar beach. There we had great fun , soaking ourselves in the sea water and forming human chains. We ended our trip there, relishing the scenery.

This was a wonderful and memorable moment of my life. It was educational and also fun. I am enthusiastically waiting for many more such trips in future.

SCIENCE FEST ACTIVITIES At Pilikula on 27th of Feb 2022

On the eve of National Science Day, 75 students from Nature Club and Science Association of University College Mangalore visited Pilikula Regional Science Center and participated in various activities on 27th Feb 2022.

All the students had gathered at State Bank Bus stop and got into bus number 3c in 2 different groups around 9:30am. We got down in Pilikula where our Sir Dr. Siddaraju was waiting for our arrival, we headed straight towards auditorium where Dr. S.T. Aruna was conducting her seminar on Nano-technology and its revolution. Her seminar really helped us in viewing the world in a different spot light, after which we were offered a very tasty breakfast. Then we went into an exhibition which was held by ISRO, where there was a bus which consisted of models of different rockets and other achievements that ISRO had made to enhance the glory of our country. This caused an adrenaline rush in our bodies. Later we attended second seminar conducted by Dr. Smitha Hegde on the topic Women in Science. She promised us to show a glimpse of 10 women scientists. Her words were so enlightening and she filled us with immense motivation to achieve something for our country as a woman. After which, they offered us good lunch. Later some science activities and pick and speech on science topics were conducted by Pilikula faculty for all 3 college's and winner's would get cash prize. Around 3:00 pm we left to Swami Vivekananda Planetarium to watch NASA's mission Mars 1001. It was definitely a mind blowing experience to actually watch them filled with pride and dedication. We were offered evening snacks along with tea/coffee. We had given some leisure time to play around the park. We took a lot of pictures and left around 5:30 pm. It was definitely a time where we gained lot of knowledge along with some fun. We are grateful to our Sir Dr. Siddaraju for giving us an opportunity to be a part of such mesmerizing sessions.

Fathimath Farasath and Brinda of University College Mangalore bagged prizes

At Pilikula on 20th of March 2022

The Nature Club, Science Club, Youth Red Cross and other associations of University College, Mangalore unitedly participated in the "Sankranti Science Activity" at Pilikula on 20th March 2022. The Sankranti Science Activity was held to acknowledge the significance of the March equinox. The equinoxes are the only time when both the Northern and Southern hemisphere experience roughly equal amounts of daytime and night-time.

The students were divided into two groups. The first group was escorted by Vedashini from 3rd BSc and second group was escorted by Dr. Siddaraju and Dr. Kumaraswamy. The group started from the State bank bus stop at 8.40am and reached Pilikula by 9.20 am. Later students walked the distance to the Pilikula Science Center and reached there approximately at 9.30 am. The Pilikula was a pleasant place, well facilitated with lots of science models. Students were served refreshments in the morning as soon as they reached. The students from other colleges also attended the program. After the refreshments all were instructed to gather at auditorium and the stage program began at 10.30 am. The program began with welcoming the gathering.

The Director of Pilikula, Mr. K.V Rao shared some information about the day, and spoke on some informative topics. Later Dr. Atul, who was the Resource person of the day explained about the equinox. He shared lots of information about the March equinox.

They organised an experiment on the occasion. This experiment can be performed only during the equinox. The instructions were given and the whole team was divided into seven groups. The experiment was to determine the longitude and latitude of the given region using sunlight. The instructors provided a kit which contained all the items which was required to perform the experiment. Every team stood in different positions and performed the experiment until they got the final result. After an hour all were said to gather in the auditorium once again and were instructed to sit according to their groups. There was a discussion about the final answers. After this some students gave the feedback and shared their experience. Lunch was served after the program to everyone. In afternoon everyone took a small stroll around the science models, all the students were happy and played with the models.

The students were assembled at the planetarium at 2.45pm. The planetarium show was really amazing. They started the show by showing a short video about the solar system, stars etc. After that they showed a movie called "THE JOURNEY TO MARS" it was good and interesting. After the amazing show the students clicked some snaps with their friends and faculty. They had great fun and ended the trip with ice cream. All students started towards their home by 4 pm.

This was a wonderful and memorable moment. It was educational and also fun. As the day ended, the students left for home looking forward to more such experiences.
